

WATERSHED

ENVIRONMENTAL POETRY FESTIVAL

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1 • NOON TO 4:30 PM • FREE TO THE PUBLIC
CIVIC CENTER PARK • MLK JR. WAY AT CENTER STREET • BERKELEY

POETRY, MUSIC & ENVIRONMENTAL ACTIVISM

Robert Hass, U.S. Poet Laureate 1995-97, Poetry Flash and the Ecology Center/
Berkeley Farmers' Market invite you to celebrate writers, nature and community at the 21st annual Watershed Environmental Poetry Festival, part of 100 Thousand Poets for Change.

RESERVE YOUR EXHIBIT SPACE, NOW!

- River Village is an exhibit area for organizations to share their work. In addition to environmental groups, organizations representing any aspect of the creative writing or literary community, such as small press publishers or literary magazines, are warmly welcome. River Village will also feature interactive nature and poetry activities for all ages.
- Exhibit spaces are located within the grass circle at Martin Luther King, Jr. Park, providing clear view of stage performances and readings.
- Your application fee helps us to offset costs, including sanitation facilities, permits, fees, insurance, and security. Thank you.

RIVER VILLAGE GUIDELINES

- The WATERSHED Festival permits the sale of sweat-shirts, t-shirts, buttons, bumper stickers, books, magazines, and other literature as well as CDs and environmental art. Soliciting donations for your organization is okay.
- When a group's fee is waived, that organization agrees to provide volunteer support to help us set up and close the festival. You will be contacted regarding the specific times.
